FEMALE SCIENTISTS. TALENTS TO ENHANCE FOR A SUCCESSFUL SCIENCE

On May 20 the Auditorium Parco della Musica in Rome will host the event ScienziatE. Talenti da valorizzare per una scienza di successo (<https://agenda.infn.it/event/31190/>) (Female scientists. Talents to enhance for a successful science), organized within the competition for secondary schools Women and research in physics: opportunities, obstacles and challenges (<https://genera.sites.lngs.infn.it/>), promoted by INFN, the Italian

National Institute for Nuclear Physics, and the Italian National Research Council Institute for Research on Population and Social Policy IRPPS, partner of the European network GENERA - Gender Equality Network in the European Research Area (<https://genera.sites.lngs.infn.it/>).

The award ceremony of the competition, in the first part of the event, will be followed by dialogues with scientists, accompanied by illustrated readings of historical witnesses. On stage and remotely, young female researchers and expert scientists will take turns: from the aspiring astronaut Linda Raimondo to the first Italian woman to graduate in aerospace engineering, Amalia Ercoli Finzi, to the frontier research conducted by Marica Branchesi in the field of gravitational waves and by Anna Grassellino for quantum computing. The whole event will be moderated by Sara Zambotti and Massimo Cirri, Radio Rai.
