INFN AT THE EUROPEAN RESEARCHERS' NIGHT

A week of science and research that involved all of Italy and culminated on Friday, 30 September with the European Researchers' Night (<https://www.nottedeiricercatori.it/>), the evening dedicated to scientific research promoted by the European Union, which has been bringing science to Europe's public squares since 2005, mainly through the stories of those who experience research firsthand. In the 2022 edition, INFN, thanks to the contribution of its Divisions and the National Laboratories, organised many initiatives and activities in the cities participating in the initiative. This year as part of the initiative, INFN also held several events throughout the week celebrating the 10th anniversary of the discovery of the Higgs boson (<https://higgs10.infn.it/eventi/>)
